

HOW TO COLLABORAT IN THE SILICON VALLEY AREA.

March 5'th 2020 at 15.15 in the "Lille Anatomisk Auditorium" or 1231-424.

We have the pleasure of having Jeppe Dørup Olesen from Innovation Centre Denmark in Palo Alto (<https://siliconvalley.um.dk/>).

Jeppe Dørup Olesen is the Innovation Attaché, Research and Education, with a long experience and a great network in the bay area and in Silicon Valley.

Innovation Centre Denmark is a part of Ministry of Foreign Affairs, Denmark and Jeppe Dørup Olesen will give a broad introduction to what this unit can facilitate both in science and business in the south San Francisco area.

During my stay at Stanford I had great help from them and can only encourage people to come and hear the great possibilities that the unit offers.

So do you have an interest in setting up a company collaboration or moving to the bay area come an hear what Innovation Centre Denmark can do for you.

Looking forward to see you all.

A light refreshment will be served.
